Improve Your Workflow

Every day, disabled students, staff, and faculty are prevented from accessing important communications, admissions, and course information.

These same individuals are forced to disclose their personal and private information to third parties in order to complete these processes that are otherwise impossible to do on their own. But with CommonLook Campus 101 it doesn't have to be this way.

CommonLook Campus 101 is a scalable bundle of software, services, and resources to help ensure your PDF and other documents are compliant.

By providing accessible documents you are fulfilling the need to meet mandatory accessibility requirements and provide those with disabilities equal access to information and opportunities. By being compliant with current accessibility standards you are also protecting your organization from costly and embarrassing litigation.

When it comes to document accessibility, we think everyone should be on the same page.

Quantified Benefits

Designed specifically for the education sector, CommonLook's Campus 101 provides a comprehensive, scalable bundle of software, services, and resources that aid organizations in jump starting their document accessibility programs. Having an effective accessibility program ensures all students, staff, and faculty have equal access to information and opportunities. Establishing such a program, however, can be a complicated and daunting task.

CommonLook's Campus 101 provides an entry-level solution with everything you need to become compliant with the leading accessibility standards such as Section 508, WCAG 2.0, PDF/UA and more.

CommonLook Campus 101 Includes
